Little Squirrel came to a park with trees.
There he saw a peacock. The peacock walked up and down in the park.
'Oh what a beautiful tail!' thought Little Squirrel. 'The peacock has the best tail in the world.'

Little Squirrel ran home to his mother and said. 'The peacock has a beautiful tail. It's the best tail in the world.'

'Beautiful tails are not the best tails in the world,' said Mother Squirrel.

'Go to bed now and you will find that your tail will keep you warm.'

Little Squirrel went to bed. Just as he was going to sleep, he said,
'I have a beautiful, warm tail. It is good enough for me.'
